

#YoungDemographers

14th Conference of Young Demographers

8–10 February 2023

KEYNOTE LECTURE

We would like to invite you to the keynote lecture that will take place during the 14th Conference of Young Demographers. The keynote lecture entitled Economic Uncertainty and Family Life Courses in Europe will be given by professor Daniele Vignoli from the University of Florence.

Thursday, 9 February, 3 PM CET
Velká geologická lecture room

Daniele is a Professor of Demography at the University of Florence, where he teaches, among other courses, Family Demography and Longitudinal Data Analysis. He is the scientific coordinator of the University of Florence Population and Society Unit (UPS). Currently, he leads an ERC Consolidator Grant on Economic Uncertainty and Fertility in Europe, a Miur-FARE Grant on Uncertainty and Fertility: Narratives, and a Miur-Prin Grant on The Great Demographic Recession. He is Editor-in-Chief of GENUS – Journal of Population Sciences and co-director of the initiative Florence Population Studies (FloPS), a collaboration between the European University Institute and the University of Florence. His research addresses: Family demography, Social demography, and Life course. In 2020, he received the Dirk J. van de Kaa Award for Social Demography from the European Association for Population Studies.

ASSOCIATION FOR YOUNG
HISTORICAL DEMOGRAPHERS

CHARLES UNIVERSITY
Faculty of Science

ESH
European Society of Historical Demography

Radboud University

RADBOD GROUP FOR HISTORICAL DEMOGRAPHY
AND FAMILY HISTORY

N.W. POSTHUMUS
INSTITUTE